

Domains causing traffic to be diverted to BV-controlled websites

- This is a list of domains that have had activity regarding the spurious websites that have seen activity over the past 6 months.
- This is not a full list of domains that dmardian BV has control of that the Inc needs to get under its management.
- The change history for these does not necessarily go back as far as the 7 months, as some of the domains only came under my radar and therefore the monitoring, at different points over the timeframe.
- The “No data yet” lines indicate the first time I put the domain into the monitoring service.

DMARCIAN.NL - This site has been up for awhile, and has traditionally linked to the Inc-managed EU site, but this was adjusted in Feb to point to the rogue dmardian-europe/dmardian.co.uk site

DMARCIAN.EU - This is a production “dmardian app” domain

I did not enter this into the monitoring service until 2020/10/06, which was after the BV moved the “NS” records from my control over to a BV-managed DNS server. They populated it, at the time with a near-copy of what we had in production. But with them having full control over it, it is a simple flip of some settings that they manage that will cause all of our EU customers’ legitimate traffic going to our APP server to go be hijacked and to go to a BV-controlled site. This is a major, major vulnerability for us that I cannot stress enough.
